In these examples, the SWARM-BOT is built of s-bots interconnected using their "fixed" gripper. The "fixed" gripper has a degree of freedom with sufficient torque to lift and hold another s-bot. Then the SWARM-BOT can pass a gap or a step that would have been too big for a single s-bot. This approach finds its theoretical roots in recent studies in the field of swarm intelligence.